This project would not have been possible without the support of the following people and organizations.

First, I would like to thank Gitigaa-Migize for giving me the space to work with you. Thank you for allowing me to make my mistakes, and for all the Earl Grey tea I could ever drink. This project would not have taken place were it not for your willingness to work with me these past years.

Thank you to Betasamosake, Waaseya'sin, Phil and your families for accepting me in your spaces. While I tried to avoid the insider/outsider problem of being a researcher in your community, I know there is only so far one can go in putting down the researcher role. I also thank you for letting me be in your communities. Like I said when we last saw each other, I don't want to leave.

This project also would not have been possible without the support of my academic supervisor. Thank you Waziyatawin for always providing helpful guidance and critique, and a few scares here and there to keep me on track.

I would also like to thank my mom, Mari Jo MacLaurin, who happened to be living near Curve Lake First Nation during the summer of 2011. Looking back now, I don't know what I would have done if you were not there; thank you for helping me do my work, giving me a place to stay when I needed it, and the endless times I had to borrow your car or ask you to watch Squid. I appreciate what you've done for me.

Finally, I would like to thank the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) Joseph-Armand Bombardier Canada Graduate Scholarships Program, the Indigenous Child Welfare Research Network (University of Victoria) and the National Aboriginal Achievement Foundation for funding my research and studies during my tenure at the University of Victoria's Indigenous Governance program. Living and attending school in Victoria, BC is definitely not cheap. Your support helped to make this project possible.
